The Blauvelt Family in Nova Scotia

Much publicity has been rightfully given the French, English, Scottish and even the German settlers of Nova Scotia; but to date little or no recognition has been accorded the Dutch Loyalists who came after the Revolution, first to Shelburne, and thence to Tuskent in this County.

The ancestors of these people had, about 1600, founded the Colony of the New Netherlands in the districts about the Hudson River, and established their capital, Nieuw Amsterdam, later the City of New York.

When the rebellion against the British Crown was fomented by the Puritan English of New England and officered by the Cavalier English of Virginia, it is worthy of particular note that so many of these New Netherlanders, alien in race, tongue and customs, and still smarting under what they must have felt was the injustice of their conquest by the British, chose to serve the Crown; and that New York was the last bit of territory held by the British in what is now the United States.

It is with a view to recording these facts, and not, as may be assumed, merely because of family pride, that these notes have been compiled. For, as with all families which can trace their ancestry back for centuries, it must be freely admitted that many of those mentioned have not been altogether glittering ornaments on the family tree.

The Family Name

The name, spelt variously in at least 21 different ways on the records, probably is one of the oldest in Continental Europe, emerging at about the time when family names were first being used; and seemed to be derived from the family Arms, which translated into English, are as follows:—

The upper third of the shield Blue, with two gold pieces:

The centre third Gold:

The lower third Blue with one Gold piece from which the name, also translated in English as "Bluefield" could, and probably did, derive.

Allied Families

The records show the Blauveldts and Lents inter-married in Holland, but it has been thought best to start these notes with the originals in America; and since all the Yarmouth County Lents are Blauveldts in two ways through Breechje Smit, wife of Cobus (James) Lent; and since all the Yarmouth County Blauvelts are VanNordens, some of them in two or three ways; and are also Hatfields; and many of the Hatfields are, of course, also Blauvelts; it has been necessary to preface the strictly Blauvelt genealogy with notes on the ancestors of these other families.

Notes on some of those mentioned will show how closely connected the people of Tuset are with the old Knickerbocker families in the United States; how prominently they were engaged in the Revolution; and how, in fact, no history of the American Revolution is complete without the history of the Tuset settlers.

Gerrit Hendricksen Blauwveldt

The first of the name in America was Gerrit, son of Hendrick, who was born in 1620 at or near DeVenter, and in 1637 sailed for America on "Der Kahmer Nyckel", commanded by Pieter Minuit, afterward one of the most famous Governors of the New Netherland Colony.

He married, as the notes will show, Marretje Moll, first female white child born on Manhattan, and established his home at a point on Broadway, now the site of the "Lawyers Trust & Guaranty Company".

He died Nov. 28, 1683.

The Tappan Patent

In 1682, two of Gerrit's sons, Huybert and Johannes, and two of his sons-in-law, Cosine Haring and Lambert Smith, were among the Patentee of a large area, known as the "Tappan or Blauveldt Patent".

Here they carried on their peaceful occupations rather successfully until the outbreak of the Revolution.

The Revolution

As is commonly the case in all civil wars, the Revolution divided families, and sons fought against fathers, and brothers against brothers; and we find Blauvelts, Lents, Hatfields and VanNordens on both sides throughout the war.

In one Orange County regiment, commanded by Col. Johannes Blauveldt, with another Johannes Blauveldt as First Major and an Abraham Blauveldt as Second Major, we find no less than 28 of the name, among them Theunis Blauveldt. James Lent was also a member of this Regiment.

The Andre Case

The famous, but unfortunate, Major John Andre, whose successful bribing of General Benedict Arnold to surrender West Point was one of the most outstanding events of the whole conflict, was tried in the Old Tappan Church, a church founded and maintained largely by the Blauveldt family.

George Washington was at the time a guest of Major Fredericus Blauveldt, and Andre was hanged and interred on the property of Pictris Smith, father of Breechje Smith, wife of James Lent. At the time when the body was removed for its ultimate burial in Westminster Abbey, the land still belonged to members of the Blauveldt family.

Captain Theunis Blauvelt

Capt. Theunis Blauvelt of Tappan, was the progenitor of the family in Nova Scotia. He was the son of David, was born in 1747 at Tappan, and was the great-grandson of the original ancestor, Gerrit.

He first married Katherine DeBann and had two children Jan and Maria, whom he was compelled to leave in Tappan with their grandfather, Jan DeBann.

Before the Loyalist's Claims Commission he stated that he was first a member of the Rebel forces, merely until he could escape, and that in 1776 he was granted protection by Sir William Howe. He also produced a Commission as spy from General Robinson; and a Commission in the King's Militia Volunteers, issued by Sir Henry Clinton. The statement also describes a number of parcels of land and also his personal property, all of which was confiscated by the Rebels, and is attested by James Lent and Abraham Lent as witnesses.

At the close of the Revolution he came to Shelburne where he received a grant of two lots; but shortly after removed to Tuset, where as one of the VanCortlandt Grantees, he procured a grant of 300 acres. Here he conducted an inn until his death in 1830.

He married (second) Hannah, daughter of Gabriel VanNorden (another of the Grantees), and had a family of nine, from whom are descended all Nova Scotians of the name.

Of his sons, two, Job and James R., were Master Mariners and Abraham was a Captain of Militia.

Other Master Mariners bearing the name were Gabriel son of David and his brother Robert R., Aaron Webb son of Job, and his brother John R., also Frederic W., son of Robert R.

Many others of the family followed the sea in the days of Nova Scotia's wooden ships.

Some Hatfield Notes

Abram Hatfield, son of Matthias, had a son Matthias, whose daughter Phoebe was the mother of Governor Aaron Ogden and General Matthias Ogden.

Margery Hatfield, daughter of John, married Jacob Tooker and the Tookers, with their daughter Deborah and her husband Dennis VanToyle, were, in 1784, the first white settlers at Tusket. Their house was on the point of what is now known as Chase's Island. VanToyle died and his widow married Job Smith. Deborah Smith conducted an Inn in Yarmouth until her death in 1861, at the age of 95.

Job Hatfield, brother of Margery, was one of those who took part in the hanging of John Ball, one of the noted incidents of the Revolution; and many of the old residents had the story first hand from his lips.

Abram Marsh Hatfield, it is related, was famed far and wide for his pride and particularly for his violent temper. He was an officer of the Militia and was for a time starved for food.

It is a matter of family tradition that Capt. Jones was once captured in the Mediterranean and made a galley slave by his Turkish captors. Released by the Turks, he is said to have sworn that he would name his son for the Sultan. All his children being girls, he was forced to compromise with heaven and named his youngest "Constantina".

Many of the Hatfields have also followed the sea, and it is said that at one time there were 14 Master Mariners of the name sailing Yarmouth ships. One family, grandsons of Abram Marsh, boasted seven brothers all Master Mariners. Joseph Howe relates how he visited this home and was shown their portraits.

Capt. Stanley Hatfield, murdered in the famous "Mutiny on the Lenzie", was the son of Capt. James, and grandson of Abram Marsh.

Others have been very prominent, particularly in the commercial and political life of the country.

Isaac and Forman, sons of Capt. James, and John V. N., son of Col. Job, were members of the Provincial House, and the Hon. Paul L., a descendant of Abram Marsh, was for several terms a Member of the Dominion House and finally Member of the Senate.

Some Lent Notes

James Lent, the founder of the line in Tusket, and his son Abraham, were both Members of the Provincial House; and Abraham was for many years Custos Rotulorum.

James Lent the first was an Ensign in the Loyalist forces and one of the VanCortlandt Grantees at Tusket, where he received a grant of 175 acres.

The Post Office and Customs House were conducted by the Lent family for almost a century.

William T. Lent was for many years a prominent merchant at Tusket.

E. Chesley Allen, son of Brechjo Lent and Stephen Allen, is at present, 1939, Superintendent of the N. S. School for the Blind.

Founding of Tusket

As the above notes show, the first settlers came to Tusket in 1784 and were followed in succeeding years by many more of the Loyalists from Shelburne.

It is worthy of note that these people named the place and district "Franklin" in honor of Governor William Franklin. Gov. Franklin was the son of the famous Revolutionist Benjamin, but was as ardent a Loyalist as his father was Rebel. He swore a solemn oath that for every Loyalist hanged by the Americans, he would hang three rebels.

What may be called the official founding of Tusket was in 1788, when on May 19, some 12,000 acres was granted to Major Philip VanCortlandt, late of VanCortlandt Manor, Westchester, New York; and his 39 associates, nearly all of them Dutch Loyalist Officers, who had served with him during the war.

This grant was commemorated in 1938 by the establishment at Tuskett of a "Public Park", named Van Cortlandt Square, and the incorporation of the "Association of Van Cortlandt Grantees".

VanCortlandt Park, New York City, is named in honor of the same Dutch family.

Major VanCortlandt later obtained a grant of 18,000 acres at Aylesford, but finally removed to England, where he died.

VAN NORDEN

The first of the name in America was Pieter, son of Kaspar. He was born in 1600 and came to the New Netherlands Colony in 1623. In 1651 he married Aechtie Jans, who was born in Norden, Friesland, in 1620.

They had issue among others, Jan, born Oct. 4, 1654, who married Elizabeth Rees, born Oct. 25, 1654.

Jan and Elizabeth had issue among others, Adam, born 1680, who married Abeltie Sloot July 27, 1700.

Adam and Abeltie had issue among others, John, born May 17, 1704, who in 1729 married Theodosia Earl, born in 1709.

John and Theodosia had issue among others, Gabriel, born Oct. 25, 1737, and married May 19, 1757, Janetje Westervelt, daughter of Stephen and Helliout, who was born Feb. 20, 1741.

The Van Nordens lived at Westchester, New York. Gabriel, while probably a native of this place, during the Revolution and occupancy of New York City by the British troops, conducted an Inn or Public House there, which is said to have been a rendezvous of British Officers and spies, and a sort of clearing house for the exchange of information of military value.

At the conclusion of the war, he came to Shelburne and thence to Tuskett, where in 1788 he and his sons Stephen and Cornelius were among the Van Cortlandt Grantees, later removing to Arcadia, where he purchased from one Bartlett the property in recent years owned and occupied by F. A. W. Hatfield.

It is said on reliable authority that he took with him from New York at least a portion of his house there, that he later conveyed it to Tuskett, and that it finally was incorporated into the Bartlett house. A portion of this house is also said to be of French construction to which additions had been made by Bartlett; and is said to be the house in which the famous Paul Revere took his second degree of Masoury, while on a trading expedition to Arcadia, just prior to the outbreak of the Revolution.

Gabriel VanNorden was a Justice, also held other public offices and was a rather prominent citizen in the early history of the County. He died in 1810.

Gabriel and Janetje had issue:

1758, John, married Magdalen Maine d. John.

1760, Cornelia, married Andrew VanBurskirk.

1763, Stephen, married Henrietta Earl, d. Peter.

1765, CORNELIUS, married Phoebe Smith, d. Job.

1767, Theodosia, died 1779.

1770, HANNAH, married Capt. Theunis Blauvelt.

1772, MARY, married Jacob Lyon Hatfield.

1773, Phoebe, died 1865.

1774, Abigail, married Henry Sanders, s. Joseph.

1776, David, married Mary Cain, d. James first.

1779, Elsey, died in infancy.

Janetje VanNorden died Dec. 18, 1779, and Gabriel married on March 29, 1780, Magdalen Maine, widow of John, born 1737, died 1823, by whom he had issue:

1781, Gabriel, died 1783.

1782, William, died in infancy.

1784, Jane, married Job Hatfield.

1785, Sarah, died in infancy.

1787, Sarah, married Jan. 22, 1811, William Robertson.

1789, Gabriel Bydder, married Charlotte Timpany, d. Robert.

1790, Elizabeth, married John Williamson.

1792, Theodosia, died in infancy.

1794, Theodosia, married Aug. 26, 1818, Thos. Coffin.

For later generations of the Van-

Nordens. see Brown's History of Yarmouth, published in 1888.

One line, however, of which Mr. Brown seemed to have no knowledge, is that of Cornelia, who married Andrew VanBuskirk. The VanBuskirks removed from Tasket early in the nineteenth century and went to Pugwash, and in Cumberland, Colchester and Pictou Counties are found hundreds of their descendants, many of whom, through intermarriage, bear Scottish names; e. g. it may be of interest to note that William MacDonald, Town Engineer of Stellarton, is a descendant of Gabriel VanNorden and Andrew VanBuskirk, two of the VanCortlandt Grantees, as is also James Sidney VanBuskirk, former Mayor of Oxford.

Hon. Robert Robertson, M. P. P. for Shelburne 1856-78 and Commissioner of Public Works from 1867; his son Hon. Thomas Robertson, M. P. 1878, and M. P. P. 1894-1902 and Speaker of the House from 1901; W. McL. Robertson, M. P. P. 1928-33, son of Hon. Thomas, were all descendants of Gabriel VanNorden.

James Harold Bingay Ped. D., whom the notes show as a Blauveldt, a VanNorden, a Lent and a Hatfield, a prominent educationalist and historian, is now, 1939, Principal of historic Pictou Academy.

LENT

The first Lent in America was Abraham, who was the son of Jacob, who was the son of Jacob Simons, a corn merchant of Amsterdam, who was the son of Melchior. Abraham Lent came to America in 1638 and procured a grant from Governor DeKieft, the patent for which was issued in 1640. He died in 1689.

Abraham Lent married Gertie, daughter of Hendrick Hermansen and had issue:

1637, RYCK.

1640, Jacob, died in infancy.

1643, Jacob.

1646, Hendrick, died in infancy.

1649, Mary, married Sybout Krankheydt of Cortlandt Manor.

1651, John, married Margaret Krankheydt, d. Jacobus,

1653, Aletta, married Capt. John Harmensen, of Cortlandt Manor.

1655, Abraham, died in 1690.

1662, Hendrick, married Catherine.

Ryck, son of Abraham, was christened at the Dutch Church at the Battery and was an early member of the Dutch Church at Tarry Town or Sleepy Hollow, and with his brothers Jacob and Hendrick, secured a Grant, known as "Ryck's Patent" in 1684; married Tryantje (Catharina) Syboutsen, d. of Harck, and had issue:

1672, Elizabeth, married Thomas Heyert.

1674, (Mch. 10), ABRAHAM, married 1698 to Anna Catherine Meyer, d. Adolph, born 1677; died July 21, 1762.

Abraham was a Deacon of the Sleepy Hollow Church. He died Feb. 5, 1746.

1678, Ryck, married Maretje Elizabeth Blanvelt, born 1685, d. Johannes and Janetje.

1681, Harck, died in 1766.

1683, Margaret, married Thomas Bensen.

1685, Catherine, married Joseph Jones.

Abraham and Anna Catherine had issue:

1699, Ryck, married 1722 Cornelia, born 1696, daughter of Johannes Waldron of Harlem, Holland.

1701, Jacob.

1703, ADOLPH, married Katje (Cassie) Harring, d. Pieter and Grietje Janse Bogaert.

1705, Isaac.

1707, Abraham, married Annetje Brinkerhoff, d. Abraham.

Abraham was Captain of the Second Regiment Dutchess County Militia under Col. Brinkerhoff, his father-in-law. Peter was Colonel of the First Regiment of Orange County Militia. Suspected of British sympathies, he was forced to resign in March, 1776.

1710, Katrina, married Elbert Harring.

1714, Jacobus, died 1779.

1718, Elizabeth, married Jacob Brinkerhoff.

1720, Maria, married John Rapalye.

1722, Wintje, married Jerome Rapalye.

1724, Anne, married (1st) Maratie Ryder; (2nd), John Brinkerhoff.

Adolph and Katje had issue:

1728, Abram.

1729, Cornelia.

1732, Abram, (March 27).

1736, Catherine.

1739, Petrus.

1743, Maria.

1747, Elizabeth.

1750, Wyntje.

1753, COBUS, born Feb. 17, (James), married BRECHJE SMITH, d. Petrus and Antje.

Cobus (James) Lent was born at Tappan. His mother was daughter of Pieter Harring and Grietje Bogaert, his wife. He was baptised as Cobus on Feb. 25, 1753, at the Old Dutch Reform Church, Tappan, his sponsors being Jacobus Blauvelt, son of Abram and his wife Aaltje Blauvelt, d. Joseph.

He married about 1774 Brechje Smith, daughter of Petrus and Antje (Blauvelt) his wife, who was born at Tappan Aug. 11, 1753, baptised there on the 26th of the same month and died at Tusket, Nov. 14, 1825.

It may be noted that both parents of Brechje Smith were descendants of Gerret Hendricksen Blauvelt.

Adolph Lent, father of James, was a Loyalist and died in New York during the Revolution, his property at Tappan being confiscated after the war. Both James and Abram, sons of Adolph, served in the British forces (though James was first a member of the Orange County Militia) and after the war both came to Nova Scotia, where James was among the VanCortlandt Grantees at Tusket, where he died Aug. 11, 1838; and Abram among the settlers at or near Clementsport, (though some histories claim that he returned to Tappan), where he married Eleanor Spurr, (d. Michael) and became the ancestor of the Digby and Annapolis County Lents.

HATFIELD

MATTHIAS Hatfield, of Leyden, Holland, came to America about 1660, and in 1664 was a resident of Elizabethtown, where he acquired
